Grain & Feed Association

NGFA and NDGDA/MGFA/SDGFA have teamed up once again to provide members with a Regulatory Compliance Seminar to address OSHA, FDA and EPA issues impacting the grain, feed and processing industry. In addition, with the recent elections, the seminar will address how the changes to the Administration and Congress could affect the aforementioned agencies and their agendas. The operations part of the seminar will address implementing a safety and health management plan to comply with OSHA standards and developing effective training programs on a variety of issues for employees as well.

Jess McCluer, VP of Safety and Regulatory Affairs, manages NGFA's wide-ranging operational programs concerning employee safety and industrial health, environmental issues, grain-handling facility design and equipment, and grain inspection and weighing issues. He joined NGFA's staff in 2007 after serving since April 2003 as a program analyst at the OSHA's Office of Outreach Services and Alliances. A native of Dallas, Texas, he graduated from Texas A&M University with degrees in political science and international studies. He also received a master's degree in political management from The George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

Paul Gooch, Safety Professional for Consolidated Grain & Barge. Paul is responsible for directing and managing CGB's safety process. Paul has 20 years of experience in the safety industry. Prior to working at CGB, Paul worked for Kiewit as a Project Safety Manager, Yellow/Roadway Corporation as Senior Manager Industrial Safety & Training, and VIA Metropolitan Transit as Industrial Safety Supervisor. Paul is a member of the Board of Certified Safety Professionals, NGFA and the American Association of Safety Engineers. Paul has an B.S. degree from Wayland Baptist University and MBA from Our Lady of the Lake University.

Brian Wanzonried is the Director of Environmental for Gavilon, LLC's. He has over 25 years of experience in chemical & environmental engineering including environmental regulatory compliance, safety and industrial hygiene, training, site assessments and cleanup, natural resources, security and transportation. At Gavilon, Mr. Wanzonried oversees the environmental programs for several hundred, fertilizer, grain, and ingredient facilities.
